Farmhouse for Today's Family

Imagine relaxing on the wraparound porch with a mug of coffee and a good book.

Here's a graceful, farmhouse-influenced design with lots of extras. For example, check out the handy drop zone and bench on the way in from the garage, and the versatile "flex" room that could easily serve as a guest suite. An island adds prep space in the kitchen. Nearby, columns provide a graceful transition into the great room, where a fireplace and bay window (along with a door to the porch) create a special space. Upstairs, enjoy a relaxing soak in the master suite's tub. A window in the walk-in closet lets you see exactly how your outfit will look in natural light. Two more bedrooms use a full hall bath. Nearby, the bonus room offers you space to expand.
